TRAGIC DEATH THURSDAY

Of Little Son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Green of County.

DROWNED IN A SMALL POND

Burial Was In Riverside Cemetery Yesterday Afternoon.

John R. Green, Jr., the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Green, was drowned in a pond at the family home, four miles from town on the Cadiz road, Thursday morning.

The little boy, who was not quite four years old, had gone to the lot where his father was and soon after his father missed him. A quick search found him lying face downward in a small pond in the lot. Life did not appear to be entirely extinct and everything possible was done but he could not be resuscitated. Doctors from town were summoned and made a quick run and worked hard, but to no avail.

Mrs. Green, whose health is not good, was greatly prostrated by the tragedy and is still under a physician's care.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the grave in Riverside Cemetery.

The little boy was an exceptionally bright and handsome child, the pride of the hearts of his fond parents. His death has been a terrible blow to them and has caused widespread sorrow.

Preferred Death.

MORTON WAS OUTCLASSED

In The Second Bout Of Tobin and Lambracken At Holland's Opera House.

The second boxing bout promoted by J. L. Tobin and Tony Lambracken, took place at the Opera House Thursday night before a good audience. The fun started promptly at 8:30, the curtain raiser being a battle royal between two negroes. For the first time in the local circles, a real battle royal was staged. There were no combinations nor alliances, and the five mixed it up in a promiscuous manner. The last to retain his feet was a little black negro named Earnest Davenport, who received the prize of $5.00.

The first preliminary, between Wesley Mabry and Carter King, two local light weights, was as pretty an exhibition of the fist art as amateurs could be expected to put up. Both were on their mettle, and boxed to an even draw.

The second preliminary event was between Viv an Lander and Leonard Harrison. Lander, surpassed Harrison in footwork, size and speed, and took three of the four rounds. Harrison was game and aggressive at all times, but did not have the necessary strength on punch to offset his opponents advantages.

The headliner of the evening was between Terry Nelson of Chattanooga and Reggie Morton of Nashville. Nelson entered the ring first, clad in black trunks, followed by Morton in white. Morton was seen to have the inches on Nelson, as well as the age. The first round was slow, each man feeling out his opponent's ability. Nelson was seen to have a shade the best of the situation.

The second round opened up faster. Nelson wades through Morton's guard and taps chin three times. Morton returns to face. They clinch and exchange jabs. Nelson places 2 taps on chin, one to kidney. Morton rocks Nelson's face. Nelson catches Morton's nose and draws a little blood. Draw round.

After this the affair was in Nelson's hands. He hit his big opponent with ease, rocking his head backward and forward and placing body punches at will.

There is no capital stock and the association is not for a profit-making in any sense, as salary is provided for only one officer, the general manager. Its object is to give a chautauqua annual, and such other lectures, dramas or entertainments as may be considered educational or beneficial to the city.

Lois and Voda.

Paducah, Ky., April 30.—"Love's young dream" was handled in practical fashion by Lois Wright, a miss in her teens, and Voda Ballard, a scion of one of Ballard county's most prominent families, when they eloped to Cairo, Ill., Tuesday and were wed by a magistrate.

The young people had been vainly endeavoring for six months to consummate their desire in the face of stern parental displeasure. Tuesday morning Miss Wright's father was forced to drive for groceries to La Center. Other members of the household were occupied and Miss Wright ran to the line fence on the Ballard farm and waved to Ballard. Leaving his horse the young man in overalls and his bride in a gingham apron, got into the Ballard buggy and raced to Cairo. Their parents' protest came just in time to be too late.

Col. Henry C. West returned Wednesday evening from a four months' sojourn with his nephew, Mr. Henry W. Young, of Howell, in Christian county, which is the colonel's younger days stamping grounds.—News-Democrat.

Capt. Hockersmith was one of the best known men in Hopkins county and was 82 years of age.

He was one of the six Confederate prisoners who dug their way out of the Columbus, O., penitentiary in 1863 and liberated Gen. John H. Morgan, the Confederate officer, and a number of his men.

The Dixie Breakfast Food, the product put on the market a month or two ago, is now being made by a new company that took over the business of O. T. Tutt, when he left town. Garner E. Dalton and other responsible men are behind the new company and will market this very excellent combination of cereals. It is now on sale at all of the groceries at 15¢ a package. The factory is located in one of the rooms of the Cooper-Davis building on Twelfth street. It is a home product with real merit. Try a package and you will want more.

DARDANELLES ATTACK ON

Now Holds The Center of Interest and Reports Are Meagre.

LULL ON THE WEST FRONT

Heavy Fighting Continues In The Carpathians, Austrians Active.

London, April 30.—With the battle in Flanders seemingly at an end, except for attacks the allies are making to recover the rest of the ground they lost last week, the interest of the public has turned to the Dardanelles, where French and British forces, with the operation of the fleet, are attempting to force the straits and open the way to Constantinople.

How far these operations have progressed, only those on the spot and the highest authorities at home know. The British have landed at three points on the Gallipoli peninsula and have thrown a line across the outer point of the peninsula. Other British troops are threatening Bulair line of forts and the French are looking after the Turks on the Asiatic side of the straits.

The Turks report that all the landing parties have been repulsed, but British reports, which are brief, content themselves with the statement that progress is being made and ignore entirely the Turkish claims to victories.

Along the western front in France there is much activity, but no big battle is in progress, although there are reports that the British have begun an offensive in the neighborhood of Armentiers. The Germans apparently do not contemplate a movement in force on the western end of the line, as they reopened today the Belgian-Dutch frontier, always closed when the Germans are on the move.

Heavy fighting continues in the Carpathians, for Uzsok pass and in the direction of Stry, where the Austrians are threatening the Russian communications. Berlin reports that the Austrians again have invaded Bessarabia, but there is no confirmation of this in the Austrian official statement received tonight.

The Russians have again taken the offensive against the Turkish invaders of Persia, and have driven them from the border town of Kotur.

Dispatches from neutral countries report that a great concentration of Austrian troops is taking place on the Italian frontier as a measure against the possibility of Italy joining the allies, and troops are being conveyed by sea to every coast town in Dalmatia and Istria.

A remarkable response has been made by the public to the appeal for respirators to protect British soldiers from asphyxiating gases. The war office announced today it already had received enough respirators and no more need be sent in.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Only One Ticket and Little Interest Being Taken.

The election of three trustees for the Hopkinsville white Public Schools will be held today at the city court room between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m. Of the three retiring trustees, J. B. Braden, Ira L. Smith and L. E. Fowler, only the last named is a candidate for re-election. J. H. Cate and T. W. Morris are also candidates. There is no evidence that there will be any other ticket. Officers who will conduct the election are A. M. Wallis, W. F. Randle, Geo. Bradley and Geo. Younglove.

Colored Election.

Two trustees for the colored schools will also be elected. The two trustees whose terms are out, have no opposition.

April let us down with one measly little April shower, but it came at a time when small favors were thankfully received.

Capt. Thierfelder says the reason he interned was because his men were too sick with beri-beri to fight the to have beri-beri on land than bury-bury at sea.

day School day. But then, in Hopkinsville, there's nowhere else to go.
—Bowling Green Messenger.

Hopkinsville is just keeping up a habit she got into when the last census was taken.

The Hartford Herald advocates a general tiger hunt in Ohio county, as it claims blind tigers are about to overrun the county. The Herald says: "Hartford is a 'dry' town, as is the county, but evidently there is considerable liquor drunk here which is procured not far away and within the limits of the county. There is little doubt in the minds of observing citizens that there are one or more blind tigers in the colored settlement of Hayti, our negro suburb. In fact, in a raid there not long ago, liquor in quantities to indicate sale of the stuff was found in four different places, but little came of the case. This is not as it should be. It is unlawful and defiant. Every public official, every good citizen, especially those included in church membership, should join in suppressing this drink evil and liquor-selling, which is not only morally destructive, in open defiance of law, but is giving our town and community a very bad name."

Why the Blues?

Everyone loves the blue sky, with its brightness, warmth and softness.
Hundreds have written of it in glowing terms of praise, while the inarticulate millions have felt what they expressed. Who does not love a pair of blue eyes? Laughing blue eyes, true blue eyes, tender blue eyes, Irish blue eyes. The men who follow the sea love her every mood and hue, and yet 'tis her sparkling sapphire cloak they would have her don on the happiest occasions. "It is impossible, in our condition of society, not to be sometimes a snob," wrote Thackeray—not to have a heart that would relish pumping a little blue blood along with the red. But when our thoughts are dull, depressed and drear like an unkind wintry sky, we are in the blues.
Why this paradoxical deflation of the color which is associated with so many of the fair and pleasing things of life? If we must vilify a color, there are yellow canaries and jaundice; there are yellow devils and danger. Why the blues?—Boston Globe.

"Take Her Along."

Mother is really a good sport. You have simply overlooked her in your fun. You have always thought of her as a sort of combination angel and servant, and you have made use of her endlessly and thoughtlessly. You have accepted her sacrifices as a matter of course. Sometimes you have not noticed how near you have come to allowing her love to turn into mere drudgery. The strange part of it is that she loves fun as much as yourself, that she is just as jolly on a picnic as anybody else you could invite, and that she is simply stunning in a bathing suit. To go on thinking of everybody else and inviting everybody else before her is more your misfortune than it is hers. You are really missing a pal when you overlook her.

$20 INCREASE PER ACRE ON LAND

ADJOINING ROADS BUILT UNDER NEW STATE AID LAW

This State Aid Law for Building Good Roads Promises To Be the Greatest Blessing Ever Brought To Kentucky Land Owners,
If the Burden of the Taxes is Not Thrown Upon Them Through Unwise Legislation.

The new and greater Kentucky, as a result of wise legislation, as against the old Kentucky, with unwise legislation, high taxes, bad roads, poor schools and worse school houses. Which do you prefer?

An increase of at least $20 an acre on the value of all lands adjoining improved roads built under the new State Aid Law is estimated by expert calculators who have gone into the subject very thoroughly.

The building of these public highways will also increase all other lands in proportion in every county and district.

This most notable forward step will prove the greatest blessing that has ever come to the land owners of Kentucky.

It is the intent of this law that all taxable property shall bear its proportionate burden of taxation for this State Fund for road building.

It was not intended that the land owner, though possibly receiving the greatest benefit, should bear the greatest part of the tax burden. Such great sources of revenue as our railroad properties, distilleries, financial institutions and manufacturing enterprises will bear their just part, as well as all other taxable property. The thriftling or crippling of any of these great resources by hostile legislation must lay a heavier burden upon the land owners and other tax payers.

More than 100 counties have already levied a tax upon themselves in order to take advantage of this State Aid Law for the building of Good Roads in their respective sections. This year alone the fund amounts to $658,220. This sum will be increased by levies in these counties so that the sum expended will probably exceed two million dollars.

It is estimated that at least 6,000 miles of good roads will be completed under this new State Aid Law within the next 15 years, costing when completed approximately thirty millions of dollars. It is also estimated that the expenditure of the two million dollars this year will increase the value of property to the extent of at least twenty-five millions of dollars in the counties where these roads are built.

This is a splendid beginning. What a difference this will make to the land owners, the farmers and all others who make use of county roads, whether for business or pleasure. There are many fine farms in Kentucky 20 or more miles from the railroad that are not worth half as much as if they were near a railroad station, for the reason that it is too far to haul farm products to market over the old-fashioned dirt roads, which are practically impassable for nearly half of the year.

What a difference, though, when these same farms shall have been connected with the railroad or the market with a good State road over which it is easy to drive and haul as compared with the old roads. To haul a large load over a good road, even twenty miles, is easier and quicker than to haul it over five miles of the old time winter mud road. These good roads, therefore, will bring the distant farm nearer to the market and add greatly to the profits of the products of the farm.

Under the supervision of competent state and county road engineers, county seats and the most populous sections of the State will be connected by improved public highways, bringing the church, school and market nearer the door of every family. Then will come a new era of prosperity in Kentucky.
With the markets thus of ready access, the farmer can market his products of all kinds to better advantage in every way—do it in less time, with more ease, less cost and greater profit than ever heretofore.

While good roads are more necessary and of more economic importance than possibly any other civic improvement to which the people of the State can turn their attention, there are other important things to be done.
Such wholesome tax reforms must be inaugurated as will make it easy to raise money to carry on these great works of public improvement, without laying too heavy a burden upon the tax payers, many of whom are now bearing their fair share, and sometimes more than their share. The State's revenues are not sufficient by nearly a million dollars a year to meet the expenses of government. These expenses have to be met out of the taxes paid on the property of our citizens.

Any legislation that would tend to cripple or render less valuable any of the great tax-paying industries of the State, will necessarily transfer the burden to the farmer, merchant and home owner.

It is time for every tax payer to demand that his Representative in the Legislature consider these facts. It is time for them to call a halt to the destruction, or threatened destruction, by hostile legislation, of property interests in the State from which we derive our greatest revenues.

In other words, industries and enterprises that pay the largest taxes and make possible the great benefits to be derived from good roads, good schools, and improvements in agriculture, must not be destroyed or driven from the State.

Good roads bring the country folk and city folk into closer contact—means a broader gauged, hand-in-hand attitude toward public matters, toward public good. May our legislators and every citizen of the Commonwealth look forward to plan and work together for a greater Kentucky; to conserve every source of revenue for meeting the State's obligations, keeping it out of debt; lowering the burden of taxation; placing it where it belongs and not throw the burden of the land owner nor any other one class. May this new dawn of a greater Kentucky forever put a stop to any movement that would tend to cripple or destroy any of our great industries.

Good Roads or no good roads, we can never move forward and take our place in the galaxy of great States around and about us in progressiveness, education, wealth and industry, until we have become constructive rather than destructive in our legislation.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistering just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played.
See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a ordinary offer. We will give to you

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation.
Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.

Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme state.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof.
Grosvenor comprises in brilliant manner. In the story of the past he the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily newspapers. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

"FACTS" ABOUT THE WHALE

Are Put on Record, but it is Not Compulsory That One Must Believe Them.

The whale, like the orator, makes the most noise when nearest the surface of things. When he goes deep you never hear him. Whales spend their time in ocean travel and taking the air. There was once a whale named George Washington. His father had caught a favorite human being and had put him in the refrigerator to keep, when George happened along and swallowed him. George's father, missing Jonah, which was the name of the dainty, suspected George, and took him out into back ocean current. George thereupon began to weep salt tears, but, with prodigious courage, for a whale, said:

"Father, I cannot tell you a tale. I swallowed Jonah with my little swallower."

Whales are used to lubricate sewing machines, to decorate museums of unnatural history and to reduce to a pulp a woman's waist line.—Life.

First Lifeboat Station.

One hundred and twenty-nine years ago the Massachusetts Humane society built its first hut on Lowell's Island, near Boston, to succor the stranded mariners along the dangerous and desolate Cape Cod coast. From that little dark red hut, the first house of mercy of the sea to be erected, arose a score of like huts along the coast that had been bleached with the bones of sailors for two centuries. In 1807 the first lifeboat station was organized at Cohasset and out of that sprung the most efficient life-saving service of all the seven seas.

Breathitt County.

Winchester, Ky., April 30.—Dock Smith, accused of the murder of Ed Callahan, former sheriff of Breathitt county, entered a plea of guilty and was given a life sentence.

Smith had repeatedly confessed to the crime from the witness stand, and in his testimony D. F. Deaton, Jim Deaton and Andrew Johnson were convicted. Dock Smith and others who confessed were released on probation, and when it was learned that Smith was "on a rampage" in the mountains Judge Benton made good his warning and issued a bench warrant for him on the murder charge.

NOT IN INTEREST OF ANY ONE

Concludes That The Scramble Is One That Would

To the Democrats of Kentucky:

A confusion of politics making results uncertain, the attempt to force the state-wide prohibition issue into the campaign before the Democratic party has expressed a desire or purpose to abandon the County Unit Law to which it is now pledged, thereby muddying the political waters and endangering legislation and party unity, and limited financial means prompt me to withdraw from the Governor's race.

I entered the race with the deepest patriotic motives, silently and I hope modestly feeling that if elected I could render my party and my state a real service. I entered the race upon a platform that I believed to be a constructive, moral and democratic program, and I have not had occasion to change my mind about a single plank in it. Every principle enunciated in the platform and in the Mayfield speech, came from an earnest desire to present a program of action for a greater Kentucky.

It is true that my position on the temperance question has created some discussion. No man who knows me, however, doubts for one moment my loyalty to the temperance cause. I have never failed to give money and moral support for its promotion. Without asking any citizen to surrender his views on state-wide prohibition, I took the position that it would be better for the cause of temperance to operate under the County Unit Law, which in its present form is but little over one year old, than it would be to abandon it at this time for state-wide prohibition. There are thousands and thousands of noble temperance workers who believe as I do and who are today resisting state-wide prohibition in the interest of temperance and are regretting that efforts are being made to make it an issue during this campaign. Many believe that the effort is not at this time fundamental and that it will divide the temperance forces, bring on a reaction and do harm rather than good.

The difference between the temperance people who believe we should operate for the present under the County Unit Law and those who honestly want immediate state-wide prohibition is simply a difference of the best methods of securing temperance and not a difference of moral ideas or personal loyalty to temperance.

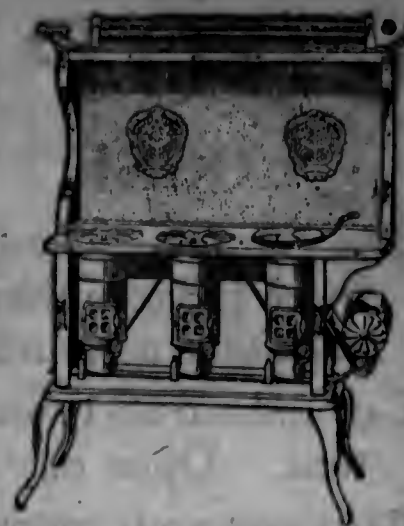

My interest in establishing the state's business upon a sound basis, in paying off its debt, in re-organizing its tax system upon a just and sound basis and in interpreting into a greater Kentucky other things enunciated in my platform, prompted me to enter the race.

But the present situation convinces me that it would not justify one of limited means, who is not willing to accept material help from any source that would make him a tool in the hands of some one else, to continue in the race and spend every dollar he has and more in an effort to secure the nomination, in which effort he may fail, and when those things he holds to be at this time paramount to the state's best interest and to the future welfare of his party are being diverted from their proper channels, making their accomplishment doubtful.

I am deeply grateful for the active and constructive interest that has been taken in my race by my friends throughout the state. My heart is warm with gratitude to every citizen who has been interested in me. I am not unmindful of the devoted and able support of the thousands of former students who have attended the school over which I have presided for the past twenty-three years, and I assure all of them that their friendship and the work they have done are deeply appreciated. I thank the press for the numerous courtesies extended to me and for every act of interest shown in my

Washington, April 30.—The long-est early spring drouth in more than forty years now exists over the more eastern portions of the country. The National Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin announced. In the far Western States the outlook for fruits of all kinds continues promising.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.
"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

"DUMMY" IS FOUND DEAD

Soon After He Had a Fight With Jim Davis, Colored, Thursday.

MYSTERY ABOUT HIS DEATH.

Non-Committal Inquest And Past Mortem May Be Held.

Parker McCombs, colored, a legless deaf mute, a well-known character about town, was found dead at his home on Second street between 6 and 7 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

He was at one time a barber and many years ago served a term in the penitentiary. Some time after being released he was run over by a train and both legs cut off above the knees. He was paid a judgment by the railroad company and bought a house and lot with it and married. He had since lived with his wife on Second street. Thursday afternoon he had a fight with Jim Davis, colored, and Davis and McCombs' wife left his home together and went to a house on another street. An hour later parties going to his house found McCombs dead. He had no marks of violence on his body. Davis and the woman were arrested and Davis was found to have several cuts about him which he said "Dummy" inflicted. He was given a workhouse sentence on another charge and the woman was released to attend the dead man's funeral.

McCombs was a mulatto and although without legs he wore pads on the stumps of his thighs and got about over town with seeming ease. An inquest was held by the coroner yesterday and the verdict was death from apoplexy.

HE GOWN'S SEPTEMBER MORN

Man Rejected as Marine Because of Nude Tattoo Picture Has It Decorously Dressed.

John A. Curtin of Pittsburgh went to Philadelphia and decided to enlist in the marines. He was a magnificent specimen physically, and the recruiting officers thought they had a prize until he stripped. Then they found a sure-enough "September Morn" tattooed on John and concealing him from Adam's apple to waist line.

"You can't get in the service with that thing on you," John was told. "Why not?" he demanded. "Ain't it good enough?"

"Yes, but it has not got any clothes on and we can't enlist men with nude figures tattooed on them."

John dressed and departed, but later he came back and sought enlistment. When he again stripped it was found that the "September Morn" was clad in a remarkable evening gown and wore a fetching hat upon her dainty head. He had been to a tattoo artist. John was accepted.

NOVEL TOY.

An ingenious toymaker of this country has recently patented a novel toy. It consists of a figure, a horse, for instance, balanced with a counterweight so that it may occupy a position on the edge of a table or mantle, where it may rock to and fro with a lifelike motion. A string between the depending weight and some movable portion of the figure causes the portion to move also. In the case of a man on horseback the string is attached to the tail of the horse and when the figure moves up and down, simulating a gallop, the animal switches his tail in an exceedingly realistic manner.

NATURALLY QUALIFIED.

"What line of activity do you think your son will follow?" "I'm not sure," replied the weary-looking man. "But from the close questioning he puts me through I'm inclined to think that he'll make a great chairman of an investigating committee."

COMPENSATING FACTOR.

Edwin—I hear Nellie's husband is a nut.
Evelin—He is; but he's a doughnut.
Edwin—A doughnut?
Evelin—Yes; he has money.—Judge.

WASTED.

Sloggs—People are inexcusably wasteful of writing paper.
Blogs—That's so. I've got creditors who write to me every week.

A PARADOX.

"Love is blind, isn't it?" "So they say."
"Then how can there be love at first sight?"

THE LIKENESS.

"Miss Talkit is a fountain head of eloquence."
"Yes, inasmuch as they're both gushing."

Crow's Raucous Voice.

The voice of almost every member of the crow family has in its very harshness an unbirdlike and partly human quality that could not fail to impress the primitive imagination. In spite of the common idea that crows do nothing but caw, the old augurers recognized no less than 65 intonations of the raven's voice, each with its special significance. From the ringing "Rahk! rahk! rahk! rahk!" of the hooded crow, the Swedes have borrowed their fierce cheer, the finest battle cry possessed by any people.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily, at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The year 1914 has been the most extraordinary in the history of modern times. It has witnessed the outbreak of the great European war, a struggle so titanic that it makes all others look small.

You live in momentous times, and you should not miss any of the tremendous events that are occurring. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World. Moreover, a year's subscription to it will take you far into our next Presidential campaign.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only 1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00. Send all subscriptions to Kentucky office.

Wonderful Snow Figures.

The delicacy and beauty of snow figures have no parallel in the product of man or insect. The most beautiful of webs, wondrous as they are, of the strange insect called the spider bear no comparison with snow crystals. The rarest of gossamer laces, stitched by deft fingers that have inherited the art throughout generations, have no such delicate figures, though they have found inspiration in leaf and verdure and flower of rarest structure.

USING THE FEET IN "BOXING"

Method Recognized in France Has Never Before Popular in This Country.

The form of boxing known as "la savate," in which the feet are used as well as the fists, and kicks are as legitimate as blows, has for a long time been a popular exercise in French gymnasia and schools of arms. In this country it is practically unknown, although attempt has been made at various times to introduce it here.

The first principle is that the whole weight of the body shall be placed on one leg, and that the farthest from the adversary. The disengaged leg is used as an adjunct to the fists, and flies out with astonishing swiftness and accuracy of aim.

The "coup de savate" proper is the "chasse" off the right foot, or "shin hit," a dangerous blow, but one that is easily avoided by raising the left knee to the level of the waist. Formidable as this method of assault and others, such as the "coup d'arrêt," or straight stop hit, and the "coup de figure," or swinging face kick, may be, and undoubtedly are with an expert, the parries and guards are simple and sure if properly used.

Woman Past Help.

Chandler, Okla.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Ella Flowers says: "I hardly know how to thank you for the good that Cardui has done me. Before I tried Cardui, I thought I was past help, but after taking it I was relieved at once, and gained at least 10 pounds. Everybody says I look so much better. I am still improving greatly." Many women are completely worn out and discouraged on account of womanly weaknesses. Are you? Have you not tried Cardui? It only needs a few doses to convince you that Cardui is just what you need. Try it today. It will cure you. Advertisement.

Heroes of the Coast.

It was on a stormy March night in 1807 that the first lifeboat on the American coast battled through the raging surf and picked up a half dozen sailors from a stranded schooner. In 1848 congress recognized the noble work of this society by granting it an appropriation of $10,000. Then the government organized a small service of its own on Cape Cod. But not till the winter of 1871 did it put its heart ardently into a national life-saving service. Today there is a little army of 2,000 superb but silent heroes who nightly for eight months of the year patrol the longest and one of the most dangerous coasts in the world.

How To Buy A Piano

After you have made a thorough investigation of the different methods of selling pianos just figure what you can save if you buy direct from the factory. Remember, a retailer has large expenses in selling a piano, besides his profit. You can save all of this at our factory.

We make all fine pianos as are manufactured anywhere, and we sell direct to the homes. We never sell through dealers or agents, but we will give their profits to you.

The Adler Piano received the highest award at the National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville in 1913. You can try an Adler Piano in your home free. You can put it to any test and make any comparison you desire. You do not obligate yourself to purchase. Ship it back at my expense if you are not more than satisfied to keep it.

ECONOMIC SYSTEM TO BLAME

That So Many People Need Hospital
Treatment is a Result of Unwise Ordering of Things.

We are very proud of our hospitals, but we must not be blind to their shortcomings. Nor must we be blind to the fact that there are altogether too many people in hospitals.
That, of course, is largely due to our bad economic and industrial systems. Bad housing, preventable occupational diseases, alcoholism and many other opprobria of the present social order account for many of our sins against the laws of health. The hospital itself often falls short with respect to the care of venereal cases, the insanities, decent privacy, the social service spirit, the spirit of charity, in the case of those for whom the hospital receives no pay from the city or relatives, the segregation of children before admission to the wards until the incubation periods of the infectious diseases are passed, the care of contagious cases when they do develop, considerate and humane reception and tactful, kindly and private interrogation of applicants, the character and pay of orderly service, and on many other counts. Really we are still in the dark ages with respect to the hospital. But every year sees a nearer approach to what should be, and the ideals are not lost sight of by anyone.—Medical Times.

FICKLE SUMMER MAID

Howe—Man at the seashore discovered diamonds in the surf. Did you ever discover any jewels when you were there?

Wise—I thought I discovered a jewel last summer, but after she jilted me I came to the conclusion that she was only an imitation.

A FAIR AVERAGE.

"Does your wife believe all you tell her?"

"No; but we have an amicable working basis. She accepts about 60 per cent of it at par."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

SEEING AMERICA THIRST.

"The distillery was burned to the ground."

"Didn't they save anything?"

"Yes; they snatched a few brands from the burning."—Philadelphia Enquirer.

REAL OFFENSE.

Blondine—Doesn't Chester Bullion get on your nerves when you dance with him?

Brunette—Yes, but I could forgive him if he would keep off my feet.

HIS PREFERENCE.

Rankin (in art gallery)—Do you like still life?

Phyle—Not particularly; I'll take the movies for mine.—Youngstown Telegram.

THE REASON.

"Your friend has such a winning personality."

"Yes; that is the reason you don't want to play poker with him often."

LOPSIDED FLIGHT.

Aide (riding furiously up)—General, the enemy has captured our left wing. What shall we do?
General—Fly with the other.

A BIG GUN.

"He seems to be a big gun in this community."

"Yep. He's about the only 42-centimeter the town has."

NATURAL PERFORMANCE.

"That widower seems all broken down."

"Then why doesn't he get repaired?"

Speechless For Thanks.

Mena, Ark.—"I find Cardui to be all you represent," writes Mrs. H. B.
York, of this city. "I suffered from womanly ailments, for nearly two years, before I tried Cardui. I have been so relieved since taking it. I cannot say enough in its praise. It has done me a world of good, and I recommend Cardui to all women." Cardui is over 50 years old, and the demand is greater today than ever. Cardui is the standard, tonic medicine, for women of every age. Would you like to be well and strong? Then take Cardui. Its record shows that it will help you. Begin today. Why

GOOD WORD FOR FRECKLES

One Thing That is Certain, They Cannot Be Produced by Artificial Means.

It is high time that somebody spoke up in behalf of the freckle.
The daffodil of the complexion has been gibed at and abused until it has lost its standing as a thing of beauty.
Young girls smother in powder this wild flower the sun has placed upon their cheeks. Married women apply lotions to cause it to fade into pallor.
And only the other day a widow died from an operation which would scientifically have plucked "the jewel company" from its ordained meadow.

We cannot all be blonds. And by the same token all our complexions cannot be rose gardens. If the fates have strewn daffodils upon your face, be not ashamed, even if you do nothing to encourage their growth.
Rather be you proud that sun and wind have given you something mi-lady's bonheur has despaired of imitating. For you never saw an artificial freckle. But as to the roses that bloom in milady's cheeks—ah, well!
all is not rose that is red or pink.
And many is the rose that's true, that is also a hectic bloom, the symbol of a latent disease. But there never flourished a freckle that did not bespeak health.

So, if you have freckles, exult in them. They are true and they are healthy. And they prove at least that you have had "a place in the sun."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

MAY BE FOUGHT IN COURTS

Question of Property Rights in the Wilderness Has Not Been Definitely Decided.

The Gross-Glockner, the highest peak in the Tauern mountains of Austria, has been purchased for a private estate by Herr Wieler of Bochum. The mountain climbers of Germany, Austria and Switzerland are a good deal exercised about it, for the peak, which is 12,455 feet in height, has been a favorite one.
There are a number of paths to the top, and the German-Austrian Alpine club has placed an iron cross on its summit.

Club chalets and huts have been established high up on all sides of the mountain, and some of the paths require wire ropes and iron steps in the rocks to make them practicable. The view from the top is remarkable; it takes in a vast sweep of the country from Ratisbon, on the Bavarian plains, to the Adriatic sea.
Mr. Wieler has offered to the alpine clubs the equivalent value elsewhere for their paths and property, but that offer they declined. Thus there is raised for the first time the question of property rights in the wilderness, and mountaineers will watch the outcome with interest.—Youth's Companion.

HUHI

"A woman's curiosity is always getting her into trouble," growled Mr. Gabb. "Lot's wife rubbered around and turned into a pillar of salt."

"Is that so?" replied Mrs. Gabb.
"Well, a man's curiosity gets him into more trouble than that. A man will rubber around and then turn into a saloon."

A RARE SORT.

"They are a model married couple."

"I presume they never quarrel?"

"Oh, yes. They do that."

"Then, why do you consider them worth emulating?"

"They have decided that they won't buy an automobile until they can afford it."

DODGING AN ISSUE.

"Do you know where I can buy counterfeit money?" inquired the man with a suit case.

"Are you looking for trouble?"

"No. But I'm against the tipping evil and at the same time I want to go through the formalities and avoid being made uncomfortable by the waiters."

THERE'S A REASON.

"I hear that your father speaks very highly of me," he remarked.

"Yes," she replied, "he does that to aggravate mother."

THE WAY OF IT.

She—Women can fight as well as men.

He—I know they can, if it comes to the scratch.
